

Registered Nurse – Northern Nuclear Medicine – part time hours available

Northern Nuclear Medicine at Sydney Adventist Hospital, Wahroonga, performs nuclear medicine diagnostic imaging scans.

A part-time nurse is required to fulfill the following role:

- preparation (including intravenous cannulation) of patients undergoing PET scans
- preparing and assisting with patients undergoing stress ECG tests (exercise and pharmacological)
- general nursing duties with hospital in-patients referred to our practice for scans

Therefore cannulation skills are essential, and previous exercise stress testing or cardiology experience is preferred.

The position is for 2 days per week (approximately 12-14hrs per week), and the successful candidate must have flexibility to increase hours a little and change days to provide annual leave and sick leave cover for the other part-time nurse. We are only open Mon-Fri, so no weekend work.

Please forward your resume to Dr David McHarg at dmcharg@bigpond.net.au

We look forward to hearing from you.